

Was the defendant from his responsibility for the wife's support. Decision was reserved.

ANOTHER LIGHTNING FREAK.

A CHILD'S HEAD BURNED WHILE SITTING IN A TROLLEY CAR.

THE HAIR WAS SINGED, AND RED BLOTCHES APPEARED ON THE LITTLE ONE'S SKIN.

Mary O'Connor, seven years old, of No. 10 Henry-st., New-York, had a narrow escape from death in the storm of yesterday afternoon.

There was great excitement in the car, and mother and child were assisted into the real estate office in the Fox Building.

Speaking of the case, Dr. Muchmore said: "I was sitting in my house when the flash and report came together, and I remarked that the bolt must have struck close by."

CASH BECOMING TIMID.

HOW THE PRESENT SHOUT FOR SILVER AFFECTS REALTY.

DIFFICULTY IN OBTAINING ADVANCES ON REAL ESTATE—AN EXPLANATION BY A TRUST COMPANY OFFICIAL.

The predictions of the sound-money men at St. Louis and Chicago are being realized sooner than they expected.

At another office a broker said: "Well, I don't know whether they are refusing everybody or not, but day before yesterday I asked them for a 50 per cent loan on one of the most desirable dwellings in Brooklyn, and it was refused."

In order to thoroughly satisfy himself about the matter, an inquirer went to the offices of the company, at No. 26 Court-st., and asked for the proper person to see to negotiate a loan on a Brooklyn dwelling.

"Well, I am the man," said the person addressed. "How much of a loan do you want, and on what kind of property?"

"I want a loan of $10,000 on a house in the Park Slope," was the answer.

"What is its value?" he asked.

"It was assessed last year at $15,500," replied the inquirer, "but I don't know what the assessment is this year."

"I am afraid," said the man of bonds and mortgages, "that we cannot accommodate you."

"But," said the inquirer, "you may put the gold clause in the bond, and as we regard that as unjust to Brooklyn realty we prefer not to make loans for the present."

"We don't care to do it," was the reply. "We have no objection to such bonds, and prefer not to do so at present. How soon do you want the money?"

"Any time before September 1" was the answer.

"Well," said the official, "bring in your application in the morning, and I will present it to the Board of Directors. The prospect may not be so dark thirty days from now, and the loan may be made."

This feeling of insecurity has reached nearly all the financial institutions in the city, as was apparent on Tuesday, when the president of the City of New York, speaking of this failure, the president of these institutions said yesterday: "I regard these 3 per cent bonds as a splendid investment, and as a matter of fact I purchased several."

JUDGESHIPS TO BE FILLED.

CANDIDATES FOR THE PLACES ALREADY LINED UP.

DEMOCRATIC OFFICIALS NOW ON THE BENCH NOT LIKELY TO BE INDORSER BY THE REPUBLICANS.

The fact that three Supreme Court Justices for this, the Second Judicial District, are to be selected this fall, and that the sound-money issue has practically given assurance that the district will go Republican by a large plurality, gives considerable impetus to the discussion of available candidates for the ermine on the Republican side.

The terms of Justices Brown and Clement expire this fall, and Justice Dykman will retire, because he has reached the age limit. All three are Democrats. There is a movement among Republican lawyers to get them either renominated or indorsed by the Republicans.

Among the guests registered during the week are Guy Phelps, of New York, and his wife, Mrs. Phelps, of New York, and their children, and Mr. St. John, of New York, and his wife, Mrs. St. John, of New York, and their children.
